Students transferring to a UT or TBR university may need to meet additional requirements to gain admittance to that university's Special Education program. Transferring students must check with that university for specific program requirements. Students transferring to UTK need to be formally admitted to the program during semester 4.

Tennessee Transfer Pathways

Tennessee Transfer Pathways constitute agreements between community colleges and four-year colleges and universities confirming that community college courses meet major preparation requirements and guaranteeing that all community college courses taken will be accepted at the Tennessee college/university and will count toward completion of the specific major. The following Tennessee public universities offer programs to complete these Pathways: Austin Peay State University, East Tennessee State University, Tennessee Technological University, University of Memphis, University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, and University of Tennessee at Martin. Please visit the Tennessee Transfer Pathways website for important information regarding Tennessee Transfer Pathways Transfer of Community College Programs to four year college or universities in Tennessee. Tennessee private colleges and universities have created various ways in which students may transfer. Students may access more information on how credits transfer at the Tennessee Independent Colleges and Universities Association website.

Career Coach

Career Coach is designed to help students review career options by providing the most current local data on wages, employment, job postings, and associated education and training.
