5. Describe some of the contributions of deaf individuals. C
6. Appreciate and respect the cultural and linguistic differences of various people. C
*Letters after performance expectations reference the course objectives listed above.

V. Evaluation:

A. Testing Procedures:

There will be approximately six unit tests. The lowest grade will be dropped. Should you miss a test, that will be the one dropped at the end of the semester when total grades are averaged. The second missed test may be negotiated by earning extra credit points should the instructor deem it necessary. A third missed quiz, however, will automatically be worth zero points unless there is written proof from a doctor or other qualified professional of the need to miss, then extra credit points will be negotiated. All students are required to take the midterm exam. The midterm will be a three minute signed story. Topic: "When I was little, I dreamed of becoming...". The final exam will be a signed story to children at TSD.

B. Laboratory Expectations:

Every ASL student is required to spend a minimum of four hours in lab per semester. A sign-up sheet is posted on the lab door, each lab is limited to eight students at a time. Students are encouraged to sign up before a lab session to ensure space, however, if the lab is not full you may "drop-in". Lab will consist of activities related to your most recent vocabulary and tutoring. Please be aware that others in the lab may not be at your same course level, for that reason each lab session will have more than one student assistant. When you sign-up, please indicate which level you are at i.e. 1, 2 or 3. Please be courteous to the student assistants running the lab. If you have questions not resolved in lab, please feel free to contact me. You will be required to log in and out (name, section #, and time in & out). Please keep a record of your cumulative time to turn into me as well.

C. Field Work:

Workbooks / Homework:
Workbooks will be turned in on assigned dates. Workbooks will be checked and awarded credit per unit if completed properly. Credit % will be deducted if a workbook or homework is turned in late.

Assigned Summary / Journal
Book Report/Reaction Paper based on the book Deaf in America. Write a typed, double-spaced reaction paper to the book. Please include some comments on the contents, and at least five quotes, 3 full pages in length. Write your personal reaction, opinions and feelings about what the author has said.

Conversation Report / Review
Write about one of three separate experiences you have had with three separate Deaf people that you have had this semester. This should be written in first person (since you're describing your experiences), typed (double-spaced), and should focus on your experiences during the conversations. Please include mode of communication i.e. written notes, signed, used an interpreter etc., as well as if this mode changed during the course of the semester. Things to consider (a) How did you feel during the conversation? (b) What did you learn? (c) What made you feel in or out of your comfort zone? It is recommended that you conversate at the beginning of the course, in the middle and the third at the end of the semester.

Activity Report
All Students are required to attend at least two activities involving deaf people. The instructor will inform you of opportunities during the semester. A one page journal on your feelings and your reactions (see criterion for #2 above) is required for both activities. No late papers will be accepted. If papers are not received by due date, the assignment grade will be zero. Any non-typed paper will automatically drop one letter grade.

VI. Policies:

A. Attendance Policy:

Pellissippi State Technical Community College expects students to attend all scheduled instructional activities. As a minimum, students in all courses must be present for at least 75 percent of their scheduled class and laboratory meetings in order to receive credit for the course. Class attendance is mandatory for your skill perfection. Be assured that you will be behind if you miss a class. If you have a doctor's excuse or equal excuse, please talk with the instructor. The student will be held responsible for any material missed during an absence. It will be possible to trade an absence for a "hands-on" activity, such as attending a "silent night" etc. This must be pre-approved by the instructor.

B. Speaking in Class:

This course format will incorporate the use of visual aids, conceptual visual teaching without the use of voice, partner activities without the use of voice, and some lecture with voice. The only appropriate verbal communication by students is outside of the classroom, or during cultural discussions when the instructor allows voicing. No verbal communication is allowed during vocabulary teaching or partner activity.

C. Helpful Hints:

Some helpful hints while learning this language are:
--Try to understand the concept or main idea as is it being presented. Do not try to attach one English word to one ASL sign for both receptive and expressive modes.
--Try to visualize while learning a sign or concept verses thinking of an English word.
--Practice as much as possible with other people (Deaf and hearing-both!)
This is a "hands-on" Language, don't be to use your body to express ideas and concepts!
--When in doubt, verify a sip with a qualified person and do not try to learn only from the book.
--Maintain proper eye contact, do not follow hands!
--When finger-spelling think in words, not letters!
--Do not use finger-spelling as a crutch! That is, do not use it to get out of those tight spots when you're unfamiliar with a sign without finding out the sign also.
--A great deal of time will be spent on non-manual markers - or the affective parameter of American Sign Language. Developing this skill, often referred to as facial expressions, body movement, etc., is critical for signing. Please practice them with signs - not just separately, and give this important area equal time.
--When speaking with deaf/hearing impaired people, if you do not understand something, ask for clarification. Deaf people know when you do not understand.
--This course uses a videotext and workbook for homework and home practice. Work in pencil because you will need to view several times before making your final answer. Bring your workbook to class. You will find it helpful to write extra vocabulary words in your book as well as putting in the word underneath the vocabulary words included in your text.
--Bring workbooks to class in order to fill in vocabulary sections as well as write down any extra words/concepts included in class.
--Extra vocabulary not included in the text will be interspersed throughout the semester. These are to be included into your vocabulary base! You will be responsible for added vocabulary!
--Extra credit opportunities will be available and will be announced as they occur throughout the semester.
--Throughout this course the class will be taught nonverbally: you will be learning visually rather than auditorially. You are encouraged to ask questions everyday through non-verbal means.

D. Accommodations for disabilities:

If you need accommodations because of a disability, if you have emergency medical information to share, or if you need special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please inform the instructor immediately. Please see the instructor privately after class or in his/her office. Students must present a current accommodation plan from a staff member in Services for Students with Disabilities (SSWD) in order to receive accommodations in this course. Services for Students with Disabilities may be contacted by going to Goins 127 or 131 or by phone: 694-6751 (Voice/TTY) or 539-7153.
