V. Evaluation:

A. Testing Procedures: 75% of grade

Students will be given three broad-based, non-cumulative examinations (25% each) during the semester. Exams will consist of some or all of the following elements,

- * Slide Identification: artist, movement, time, country and/or other special attributes
- * Short answer definitions/questions
- * Essay questions (1 minimum) on broad based information

B. Laboratory Expectations: 10% of grade

Students will participate in two formal group activities/discussions (5% each) during the semester based on specific assignments geared to course content.

C. Field Work: 15% of grade

During the semester, students are required to attend either two visual art exhibitions (7.5% each) , or 1 exhibit and 1 hands-on art project. A paper (approximately 500 words) detailing who, where, what you see is required for each of the exhibits viewed. Student opinion, pro or con, and any relationship or correlation to course content that is inferred should be included. The hands-on project must be a recreation using a collage format, of a piece studied in either the Renaissance or Baroque period. The piece must be recreated keeping basic content and composition, but in a contemporary genre . Failure to complete paper(s)/project will result in an incomplete (I) for the course.

VI. Policies:

A. Attendance Policy:

Pellissippi State expects students to attend all scheduled instructional activities. As a minimum, students in all courses (excluding distance learning courses) must be present for at least 75 percent of their scheduled class and laboratory meetings in order to receive credit for the course. Individual departments/programs/disciplines, with the approval of the vice president of Academic Affairs, may have requirements that are more stringent. In very specific circumstances, an appeal of the policy may be addressed to the head of the department in which the course was taken. If further action is warranted, the appeal may be addressed to the vice president of Academic Affairs.

Excused absences will be at discretion of the instructor. Students are responsible for work missed due to absence. This applies to both excused and unexcused absences.

B. Academic Dishonesty:

Academic misconduct committed either directly or indirectly by an individual or group is subject to disciplinary action. Prohibited activities include but are not limited to the following practices:

- Cheating, including but not limited to unauthorized assistance from material, people, or devices when taking a test, quiz, or examination; writing papers or reports; solving problems; or completing academic assignments.
- Plagiarism, including but not limited to paraphrasing, summarizing, or directly quoting published or unpublished work of another person, including online or computerized services, without proper documentation of the original source.
- Purchasing or otherwise obtaining prewritten essays, research papers, or materials prepared by another person or agency that sells term papers or other academic materials to be presented as one's own work.
- Taking an exam for another student.
- Providing others with information and/or answers regarding exams, quizzes, homework or other classroom assignments unless explicitly authorized by the instructor.

- Any of the above occurring within the Web or distance learning environment.

C. Accommodations for disabilities:

Students who need accommodations because of a disability, have emergency medical information to share, or need special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated should inform the instructor immediately, privately after class or in her or his office. Students must present a current accommodation plan from a staff member in Services for Students with Disabilities (SSWD) in order to receive accommodations in this course. Services for Students with Disabilities may be contacted by going to Goins 127, 132, 134, 135, 131 or by phone: 539-7153 or TTY 694-6429. More information is available at <http://www.pstcc.edu/sswd/>.
