

Top Ten Reasons to See My Advisor

10. You are tired of flipping burgers and want to be a crime scene investigator instead, and you need an academic plan.
9. You have no idea why you're in developmental classes.
8. You want to upgrade your work skills to impress your boss and want to know which class will teach you how to deal with overzealous, demanding, relentless bosses.
7. You want to find out how to graduate.
6. You're grown up but still don't know what you want to be.
5. You can't register for classes because P.S...Web says you have to see an advisor first.
4. You took classes at the University of Timbuktu and want to know if you can use the credits at Pellissippi State.
3. You need help with study skills.
2. You cannot figure out what the degree audit is trying to tell you (Frankly, you don't know what a degree audit is).
1. Because you can! All degree-seeking students are assigned a faculty advisor to answer course-related questions, to guide you to student support services you may need, and to ensure the best college experience possible.

*Adapted from: Central New Mexico Community College
Academic Advisement and Career Development
<http://www.cnm.edu/depts/aacd/topten.php>*

“An advisor is someone for students to come to with almost any problem, because he or she knows where on campus students can get all kinds of help.”

*Academic Advising Center
Appalachian State University
<http://www.advising.appstate.edu/parents/faq.html>*