Students may begin the Tennessee Wesleyan/Fort Sanders Nursing Program with two classes remaining, provided that the remaining classes are NOT math or science classes.

Completion of these courses does not guarantee admission into Tennessee Wesleyan's Nursing Program. An application for admission into the Tennessee Wesleyan School of Nursing must be submitted and the student must be accepted. Acceptance is substantially improved by a high GPA. Students should complete as many science courses as possible before applying, as high science grades improve chance of acceptance.

Students must contact the Nursing Department regarding the application process for the College and the Nursing Department. Students should check with the Nursing Department to determine application deadlines, which may be well in advance of the entrance dates.

Note that course requirements may change. It is the student's responsibility to check with the Tennessee Wesleyan Nursing Program to make sure all courses will transfer and are acceptable. This is especially true if the courses were taken at other colleges or universities. See the Tennessee Wesleyan Catalog for more information on admission requirements for the college and for the Nursing Program.
