On behalf of the faculty and staff, I welcome you to Pellissippi State Technical Community College. We look forward to your support of Pellissippi State as you work with us to meet the needs of the students and the community we serve.

The mission of Pellissippi State is to provide state-of-the-art, quality programs in the business, computer, engineering, and scientific technology areas; university parallel programs designed for transfer to colleges and universities; and specialized programs to meet the needs of the business community. Your commitment to excellence in instruction and service will continue to make Pellissippi State a recognized leader in education, technology, and career development.

Best wishes to you as you become a part of Pellissippi State.

Sincerely,

Allen G. Edwards
President

STATEMENT OF MISSION

Pellissippi State Technical Community College's mission is to advance the comprehensive development of its community by (1) providing college courses and programs through the associate's degree level, along with appropriate student support and preparation for these studies; and (2) meeting a broad spectrum of community needs, including training and workforce development, educational support, life enrichment, and civic and cultural advancement. To meet changing needs for educational programs and services, the College continually interacts with its community.

Features of the Mission

To fulfill its mission, Pellissippi State provides students and other citizens of its community specific offerings in the following areas:

- associate's degree and certificate programs that lead to employment in engineering technologies and business;
- associate's degree programs and courses that prepare students for transfer to baccalaureate-level colleges and universities;
- developmental education and other educational support programs and services;
- General Educational Development (GED) preparation;
- training to meet specific needs of businesses, industries, and individuals;
- continuing education programs, seminars, and workshops;
- resources for special grade K-12 programs and events;
- support for, involvement in, and promotion of civic and cultural projects and events.

To sustain and enhance these offerings, Pellissippi State maintains and continually develops comprehensive fiscal and other administrative services and a physical environment conducive to learning. The College continues a distinctive emphasis on technology that began with its founding in 1974 as a technical institute -- learning and leadership in technology and the effective integration of state-of-the-art technology into teaching, educational support, and administration.

Located in Tennessee's third-largest metropolitan area, Pellissippi State comprehensively serves the greater Knox and Blount County area and extends its engineering technology offerings to Anderson, Loudon, Roane, Cumberland, Campbell, Fentress, Scott, and Morgan Counties. A member of the Tennessee Board of Regents (TBR) System, the College seeks to develop and maintain effective student transfer agreements with TBR universities, the University of Tennessee, and private colleges and universities of the region. In all programs and services, Pellissippi State continually emphasizes the value of diversity among students, personnel, and other constituencies. Services are provided without regard to age, gender, veteran status, religion, race, national origin, or disability unrelated to program performance.

STATEMENT OF VISION

In providing access to higher education for all our citizens, Pellissippi State Technical Community College will strive to build a climate which will support rigorous and relevant programs of study in response to community needs.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY AND NON-DISCRIMINATION IN EDUCATION AND EMPLOYMENT

Pellissippi State Technical Community College is committed to non-discrimination and to equal educational and employment opportunities. No person on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, national origin, age, sexual orientation, disability unrelated to program performance requirements, or veteran status will be excluded from participation in, denied the benefits of, or otherwise be subjected to discrimination in the administration of any educational program or activity, including admission thereto, by the College. All participants for admission will be considered solely on the basis of individual qualifications.

It is the policy of Pellissippi State to not discriminate on any basis prohibited by law and to provide equal employment opportunities for all qualified applicants and employees without regard to race, color, religion, gender, national origin, age, sexual orientation, disability unrelated to job performance, or veteran status. The College complies with the 2001 Geier Consent Decree; Executive Order 11246, as amended; the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended; Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, as amended; the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974, as amended; the Equal Pay Act of 1963, as amended; the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, as amended; the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, as amended; and the Pregnancy Discrimination Act. The College will not tolerate any conduct by an administrator, supervisor, student, faculty, or staff member which constitutes sexual harassment.

It is the intent of Pellissippi State to comply fully with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and with 45 C.F.R., Part 86. The College does not discriminate on the basis of gender in its educational programs and activities, including the employment and admission of students to the College. The commitment to equal opportunity applies to all aspects of recruitment, employment, and education of individuals at all levels throughout the College.

The College will consider, through appropriate and designated procedures, the complaint or grievance of any individual who has reason to feel that he or she has been affected by discrimination because of race, color, religion, gender, national origin, age, sexual orientation, disability, or veteran status. I. PERSONNEL INFORMATION

A. Adjunct Faculty Job Description

Narrative Description:

The primary responsibility of this position is to provide quality instruction for student learning and to maintain a positive learning environment in the classroom. The major emphasis will be placed on teaching and evaluating students in classrooms and laboratories. (Instructors should not have family members or significant others enrolled in their classes.) Functional responsibilities include:

1. Planning and teaching classes as assigned and as outlined in the course descriptions and course syllabi
2. Supervising the study and learning activities of students assigned
3. Submitting requests through the department head, program coordinator, or lead teacher for equipment, supplies, textbooks, and other instructional aids
4. Evaluating the academic progress of students
5. Demonstrating knowledge of services, regulations, and procedures as defined in the Adjunct Faculty Handbook
6. Submitting course grades and performing other administrative duties as required
7. Scheduling one office hour per week for each three credit hour course. For extenuating circumstances in which office hours cannot be scheduled, the adjunct faculty member must submit a written plan to the department head describing how students can access the instructor. Office hours are not paid during the summer session.

B. Selection, In-service, and Compensation

All adjunct faculty in the academic teaching areas, including adjunct faculty teaching college-level credit courses for the Business and Community Services department will have the same academic qualifications as full-time faculty. These qualifications do not apply to adjunct faculty teaching non-credit courses for Business and Community Services. The department head or program coordinator reviews the credentials and interviews all applicants. Adjunct faculty members are selected according to these four criteria:

1. Academic degree; proficiency in the proposed course
2. References
3. Previous experience in business, industry, or teaching
4. Completed application and official transcripts

After the initial semester, rehiring depends on these factors:

1. Student evaluation comments and numerical results
2. Instructor attendance
3. Maintenance of an appropriate learning environment
4. Performance of administrative duties
5. Classroom observations by full-time faculty
6. Needs of the College

All adjunct instructors will be employed subject to the laws of the State of Tennessee, the requirements and policies of the Tennessee Board of Regents, and the requirements and policies of Pellissippi State Technical Community College.

Adjunct faculty teaching assignments are dependent on sufficient enrollment in each course to be taught and/or other administrative considerations. Should the class(es) not have a sufficient number of students enrolled, the contract automatically becomes void. Pellissippi State also reserves the right to transfer the class(es) to a full-time faculty member. Adjunct faculty appointments do not include any assurance, obligation, or guarantee of subsequent employment. Adjunct appointments may be canceled without prior notice and are not effective until approved by all College officials. The maximum teaching load combined for fall and spring semesters is 24 equated load hours, with a maximum of 14 hours in a semester; the summer maximum is 7 equated load hours. Maximum teaching loads may be exceeded in exceptional cases approved by the vice president of Academic and Student Affairs and president prior to the first day of the employment period.

In the event that an adjunct faculty member cannot meet a class at the scheduled time, he or she must immediately contact the department head, program coordinator, or lead teacher. If teaching at one of the site campuses, contact the switchboard to have notices posted on the classroom door. Any absenteeism will be reflected in the amount of pay.

In-service

Adjunct faculty will participate in an in-service session to be scheduled each semester. This meeting will include administrative details necessary for working at Pellissippi State. Training sessions for new adjunct faculty members will be conducted as part of departmental orientation meetings.

Department heads, program coordinators, or lead teachers will inform adjunct faculty of the following instructional details: textbook, roll book, course outline, syllabus, sample tests, official rolls, and mailbox. They should provide adjunct faculty with copies of the Adjunct Faculty Handbook, which will also be available at in-service. The adjunct faculty should be thoroughly briefed to ensure continuity of instruction, especially between day and evening classes. Each adjunct faculty member must work carefully with the lead teacher for the course being taught.

Compensation

The adjunct faculty salary is contingent upon successful completion of service for the full term of the agreement. In the event of failure to complete the specific terms of the appointment, salary will be prorated in accordance with the policies of Pellissippi State. The salary will accrue and be payable as follows:

- Fall -- Last working day of September, October, November, December
- Spring -- Last working day of February, March, April, May
- Summer -- Last working day of June, July, August

The pay rate for each equated load hour for 2006-2008 is as follows:

$465 Associate's	$500 Bachelor's	$525 Master's	$550 Doctorate

For employees without direct deposit, paychecks may be picked up at the Cashier's window in the Business office on the last working day of the month during normal business hours. Employees who are not working on the Pellissippi Campus and who want their paycheck sent to Division Street, Blount County, or Magnolia Avenue must contact the Payroll office. Paychecks remaining in the Business office at the close of normal business hours on payday will be mailed to the home address on file. All personnel requirements and contractual agreements must be met in order to receive paychecks. An adjunct faculty member is not eligible for employment benefits (retirement credit, educational assistance, state insurance plan, sick leave, or holiday pay).

C. Personnel Requirements

All adjunct faculty members are required to submit at the time of initial employment:

1. A completed Pellissippi State Employment Application
2. A current resume
3. An official college transcript(s) for all degrees earned
4. A W-4 form
5. An Employment Eligibility Verification form, I-9 form, plus documentation (as indicated on the back of the form). All new employees will be required to complete an I-9 form, immediately on hire. Pellissippi State will only hire individuals lawfully authorized to work in the U.S.
6. An Employee Information Form

A break in service of three years or more voids items 1-6. New forms must be submitted to the Human Resources office.

Contracts must be signed and returned to the department's office when the adjunct faculty member is notified. Contracts will not be processed until all requirements are submitted to the Human Resources office. Pellissippi State reserves the right to cancel any class with fewer than the minimum number of students enrolled as set forth by institutional and/or departmental guidelines.

Adjunct faculty are expected to be aware of dates within the academic term which are pertinent to them and their students. These dates are listed in the academic calendar of events in the College catalog.

Dual Service Agreements

State law prohibits any regular employee from receiving paychecks from two state agencies. Thus, persons employed by another state agency, on either a full-time basis or a regular part-time basis, and employed by Pellissippi State receive payment for services through a dual service agreement. (Individuals employed by other state agencies, including UTK, on a temporary part-time hourly basis and who are also employed on a temporary part-time basis at Pellissippi State will not require dual service agreements.) The department head should contact the Human Resources office as soon as possible regarding a dual service employee so a dual service agreement can be initiated. Prospective adjunct employees should be informed that delays in payment can result from this contractual process. Checks are issued by the employer of record. See Pellissippi State Policy and Procedures 06:12:04 for further clarification.

D. On the Job Injuries

In the event that you are injured on the job, notify the department head/coordinator/lead teacher, Safety & Security, and Human Resources as soon as possible. If medical assistance is needed, you must choose a provider from our network. The list of providers is available at <http://www.treasury.state.tn.us/wc/>.

In the event of an emergency, go to the closest emergency room. In the event of an evening injury which requires immediate medical attention, notify Safety & Security, and proceed to the nearest network hospital, if available, or to the closest emergency room.

REMINDER: You must choose a provider from our list of providers for payment of medical bills. If you use a provider that is not in the network, you will be responsible for full payment.

E. Student Injuries and/or Emergencies

If a student is injured or has a medical emergency, contact Safety & Security.

F. Parking

A brochure on parking regulations and procedures is provided by the Human Resources or Safety & Security office. Adjunct faculty must get an appropriate parking tag from the Human Resources office at the Pellissippi Campus or from the main office at Division Street, Blount County, and Magnolia Avenue.

G. Adjunct Mentoring and Evaluation Program for Adjunct Instructors

Pellissippi State relies heavily on a professional, experienced, well-trained body of part-time instructors. In order to ensure collegiality between part- and full-time instructors, to maintain communication between part-time instructors and their departments, and to maintain consistent excellent instruction for the mutual benefit of Pellissippi State students, faculty, and administration, the academic departments have developed this process for partnering adjuncts with full-time faculty. The actual details of implementation may vary somewhat from department to department depending on the curriculum and the needs of specific departments and instructors.

Mentoring for New Adjuncts

1. Within the first month of each semester, all adjuncts in their first or second semesters at Pellissippi State will be assigned a mentor who is a full-time faculty member and who, preferably, is teaching the same course as the adjunct.
2. The full-time instructor will:
 - Make initial contact by phone or email immediately upon receiving the assignment. Provide the adjunct with phone numbers, office number, and e-mail address.
 - Make himself or herself available to answer questions about courses, the department, or the College; to offer advice about teaching techniques or students; or just to provide a sounding board.
 - At the request of the adjunct, visit the adjunct's class before midterm and offer observations and suggestions. This informal observation will not result in a report to the department head or program coordinator.
3. After midterm new adjuncts will be observed by the mentor or another full-time faculty member, according to the following process:
 - The full-time faculty member will contact the adjunct to arrange a time for observation.
 - Before observation, the adjunct will provide the observer with a copy of his or her syllabus (or course schedule) and with copies of any handouts or assignments relevant to the class period.
 - During or immediately following the class, the observer will complete a Pellissippi State Faculty Observation Form.
 - Within one week after the class, the full-time faculty member will discuss his or her observations with the adjunct.
 - After both parties have signed the observation form, the full-time faculty member will send it to the department head or program coordinator.
4. The department head or program coordinator will follow up with the adjunct as necessary and will keep the observation report on file for use as part of the continuing process of evaluation of adjuncts, including making hiring decisions for future semesters.

Partnering for Returning Adjuncts

Adjuncts who have taught at Pellissippi State for more than two semesters will be assigned a full-time partner, who will contact the adjunct, will be available for consultation at necessary, and will observe the adjunct's class after midterm. The partner will follow the same process for observation described in steps 3 and 4 above. After six semesters, when the adjunct is eligible to apply for an increase in pay with the submission of a professional development portfolio, the adjunct will be observed only in fall semesters. Adjuncts are encouraged to observe classes of full-time instructors as well, since two observation reports are required for the adjunct portfolio.

H. Student Perception of Faculty

Adjunct faculty members are evaluated by students each semester in all sections they teach. The department head may elect to reduce the number of required student perceptions for those adjunct faculty members whose performance is deemed satisfactory after two semesters of teaching within a discipline or a department.

Student perceptions of faculty are conducted in accordance with specific instructions as directed by the vice president of Academic and Student Affairs. Using this information, faculty can self-assess instructional practices, modify instruction or experiment with alternative approaches to instruction, and monitor changes in student perceptions of instructional effectiveness over time. See the appendix for a sample of the student perception of faculty form.

I. Faculty Absence

Adjunct faculty members are expected to meet all classes promptly as scheduled. In the case of anticipated absences, instructors must propose plans which are approved by their lead instructor/department head/program coordinator. In the case of unanticipated absences, instructors must notify the lead instructor/department head/program coordinator and contact the switchboard if teaching at one of the site campuses. For evening classes, the instructor must also inform the evening coordinator. Do not call Safety & Security to report absences. Any absenteeism will be reflected in the amount of pay.

J. Drug-free Campus/Workplace

Adjunct faculty must agree to abide by the terms of the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 and the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act of 1989. [See Policy and Procedures 08:07:00 at www.pstcc.edu] They must also agree to notify the Human Resources office of any criminal drug conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace no later than five days after such conviction.

K. Harassment, Sexual or Racial – Policy 06:23:01

Sexual harassment and racial harassment have been held to constitute illegal forms of discrimination prohibited by Title VI, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. Pellissippi State may be held liable pursuant to Title VI or Title VII and/or lose federal funds pursuant to Title IX for failure to investigate properly and to remedy claims of sexual or racial harassment.

1. Generally, sexual harassment may be defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when one of the following criteria is met:
 - a. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of the individual's employment or of the individual's status in a program, course or activity; or
 - b. Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for employment decisions, a criterion for evaluation, or a basis for academic or other decisions affecting such individual; or
 - c. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or educational experience or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or educational environment.

Sexual harassment can take many forms, but most sexual harassment falls into three categories: verbal, visual, and physical. Some examples of behavior that may constitute sexual harassment are the following:

- Refusing to hire, promote, or grant or deny certain privileges because of acceptance or rejection of sexual advances
- Promising a work-related benefit or a grade in return for sexual favors

- Suggestive or inappropriate communications, E-mail, notes, letters, or other written materials displaying objects or pictures that are sexual in nature that would create hostile or offensive work or living environments
- Sexual innuendoes, comments, and remarks about a person's clothing, body of activities
- Suggestive or insulting sounds
- Whistling in a suggestive manner
- Humor and jokes about sex that denigrate men or women
- Sexual propositions, invitations, or pressure for sexual activity
- Use in the classroom of sexual jokes, stories, remarks or images in no way germane to the subject matter of the class
- Implied or overt sexual threats
- Suggestive or obscene gestures
- Patting, pinching, and other inappropriate touching
- Unnecessary touching or brushing against the body
- Attempted or actual kissing or fondling
- Coerced sexual intercourse
- Sexual assault

The examples listed above are not exclusive, but simply represent types of conduct that may constitute sexual harassment.

Not every act that might be offensive to an individual or a group will be considered harassment. Whether the alleged conduct constitutes sexual harassment depends upon the record as a whole and the totality of the circumstances, such as the nature of sexual advances in the context within which the alleged incident occurred. Harassment does not include verbal expressions or written material that is relevant and appropriately related to course subject matter or curriculum.

Please note that sexual assaults may be criminal acts and as such investigation and processing by the criminal justice system, local police, campus security and crisis intervention centers may supersede or occur in addition to the process developed under this policy.

2. Generally, racial harassment is defined as any person's conduct that unreasonably interferes with an employee's or student's status or performance by creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working or educational environment. Harassment on the basis of race, color, or national origin includes offensive or demeaning treatment of an individual, where such treatment is based on prejudiced stereotypes of a group to which that individual may belong. It includes, but is not limited to, objectionable epithets, threatened or actual physical harm or abuse, or other intimidating or insulting conduct directed against the individual because of his/her race, color, or national origin. Title VII requires that Mississippi State take prompt action to prevent bigots from expressing their opinions in a way that abuses or offends their coworkers.
3. Intimate relationships between supervisors and their subordinates, between faculty members and students and in certain situations between tenured and non-tenured faculty members are strongly discouraged because of the inherent inequality of power in such situations. These relationships could lead to undue favoritism or the perception of undue favoritism, abuse of power, compromised judgment, or impaired objectivity.
4. Engaging in a consensual relationship with a student over whom the faculty member has either grading, supervisory, or other evaluative authority (i.e., member of dissertation committee, thesis director, etc.) constitutes a conflict of interest. The faculty member must take steps to remove the conflict by terminating the relationship at least while the student is in his/her class; assigning a different supervisor to the student; or resigning from the student's academic committees. A conflict of interest may also exist when a tenured faculty member must vote on such issues as retention and tenure of a junior faculty member with whom he or she has a consensual relationship. In such situations, the senior faculty member must take steps to terminate the conflict of interest by, for example, abstaining from voting on such matters. Likewise, it is a conflict of interest for a supervisor to engage in a consensual relationship with a subordinate over whom he or she has evaluative or supervisory authority. The supervisor must take action to resolve the conflict of interest.

L. Faculty/Student Instructional Relationships

Faculty are encouraged to personalize instruction and to know their students as individuals. Respect for and interest in students can be communicated in many ways. For example, attentive listening and eye contact signal students that they have the instructor's attention. References to student discussions while lecturing or answering questions also demonstrate the instructor's interest in students. Instructors can personalize instruction when student backgrounds and expectations of the course are known. Instructors can help more experienced students organize their knowledge into presentations relevant to course objectives. The instructor can influence less experienced students by recommending resources and encouraging the development of a more comprehensive knowledge base.

Student responsibility in a flexible instructional format is best communicated in terms of course objectives, clearly defined criteria for evaluation, and deadlines. This information provides a basis for planning. Evaluation criteria can be explained in relation to objectives. Deadlines can be explained as they relate to the instructional schedule and to how that schedule affects students' overall learning. The student must then demonstrate a degree of mastery in course content as presented in the syllabus and by the instructor.

Consideration for the rights of others should prevent a student from dominating class discussion or the instructor's time. Students should prepare for the class by completing assignments and identifying questions. Student questions may be answered during the lecture, or the instructor may choose to begin each class with a question/answer period. Students learn best when actively involved in the development of ideas, and they may not value prolonged discussions between the instructor and one or a few students. However, this concern should not prevent the instructor from occasionally permitting a spirited exchange of ideas.

Personalized interaction with students should not obscure the instructor's ability to objectively evaluate student performance. When a student submits work or tests, the instructor must offer a professional opinion on the demonstrated level of mastery. Of course, when emergencies occur, the instructor has the prerogative of adjusting deadlines.

M. Student Access

Adjunct faculty and students must have access to one another. At the Pellissippi Campus, adjunct faculty may reserve space on the second floor of the Goins Building or in other areas provided by the academic department. Adjuncts at Division Street, Blount County, and Magnolia Avenue will have an assigned office area.

Adjunct faculty must post a schedule of class and office hours in their assigned area and inform students of office hours and location, office phone number, and location of mailbox at the first class meeting. Students may leave written messages in the faculty mailbox (check with site campuses concerning mailbox procedures). Adjuncts will forward a class schedule with office hours and location to the department head and department secretary. Adjuncts may communicate with students and staff via electronic mail; see policy 08:13:05 for appropriate use of the College's computer system.

N. Attendance Policy -- Record Keeping

Pellissippi State expects students to attend all scheduled instructional activities. As a minimum, students in all courses must be present for at least 75 percent of their scheduled class and laboratory meetings in order to receive credit for the course. Individual departments/programs/disciplines, with the approval of the vice president of Academic and Student Affairs, may have requirements that are more stringent.

Accurate and consistent recording of grades and other performance measures simplifies the development of the final grade, provides a quick reference for advisement, and profiles class performance on assignments and tests. Overall, the maintenance of accurate student records contributes to an organized approach to course management.

Attendance Policies for Title IV Financial Aid Recipients

As required by federal regulation, Pellissippi State monitors class attendance. The following attendance policies apply to Title IV financial aid recipients:

- Any student who never attends one or more classes will have aid reduced by 100% accordingly.
- Any student who drops hours between the first day of class and the last day to add a class will have aid reduced by 100% accordingly.
- Adjustments of financial aid on any student who officially withdraws will be based on the date the student notifies the school of their intention to withdraw.
- Adjustments of financial aid on any student who stops attending all classes, but does not officially withdraw, will be the 50% period of the semester.

Class Rolls and Grade Rolls

Class rolls are available on the Web for Faculty website and should be printed to serve as the official records of enrolled students. A student attending class who is not listed on the official roll must go to the Records office to check proper registration and fee payment. If a student is on the roll but not attending class, Records office personnel will check for proper withdrawal from the class. If the student does not drop the class, she or he will remain on the roll and receive an "F" at the end of the semester. Students may attend class only if officially enrolled.

In order for Pellissippi State to comply with Title IV regulations, instructors must report class attendance at established intervals throughout the semester. Instructors are encouraged to keep accurate attendance records as well as an accurate recording of other performance measures in case a student's last date of attendance should ever be questioned by an auditor. These records should be maintained for a minimum of three years following the end of the academic year.

Instructors report class attendance via Pellissippi State's Web for Faculty site. The vice president of Academic and Student Affairs and the academic department heads will inform faculty of the attendance reporting dates each semester.

Grade rolls list all officially enrolled students who are auditing or receiving grades for the course and are issued one week prior to the last day of classes. A grade must be assigned to each student listed, and the instructor must sign each grade report before submitting it to the Records office. Timely submission of grades is a contractual obligation for all faculty. The College catalog contains an explanation of the grading system and semester calendars listing dates when grades are due. Also see the catalog for grade information such as the "I" grade and the process to change grades.

Posting of grades by actual name or social security number is not permitted; use pseudonyms or assigned numbers instead. Each Pellissippi State employee must protect the confidentiality of personally identifiable educational records of students and former students. Read the Buckley Amendment information in the Student Records section of the current catalog.

O. Professional Development

Purpose

The nature of the community college requires that extensive use be made of adjunct faculty because they enable the College to be flexible in those times when enrollment is uncertain and bring to the classroom expertise from the world of work that greatly enhances the educational experiences of students. Recognizing that adjunct faculty may not have received training in teaching skills, opportunities are provided in areas such as planning a daily lesson, using appropriate evaluation methods, presenting and managing instruction, and appropriately directing students for counseling and/or tutoring. It is the purpose of the program outlined below to provide professional development support to adjunct faculty. The program, which includes the development of a portfolio, is a requirement only for those adjunct faculty who teach credit courses and who wish to apply for a salary increment after six semesters of teaching at Pellissippi State Technical Community College. Full-time faculty who have retired from Pellissippi State and who are teaching as adjunct faculty will receive the 15% increase unless they are covered under the Post-Retirement Service and do not have to submit a packet.

Program

The program will span six (6) semesters of teaching, including summer.

1. Classroom Visits. At least once during each semester taught, a full-time faculty member (lead teacher, department head, program coordinator, or designated faculty member) will visit a class session of the adjunct faculty member. The class visit will be documented and discussed with the adjunct faculty member, and a copy will be placed in the portfolio. Twice during this six-semester period, the adjunct faculty member will visit a full-time faculty member's class and will write a report of each visit. The report is placed in the portfolio.
2. Student Perception of Faculty. Each term the adjunct faculty member teaches, student perceptions will be completed. The tabulated results will be reviewed by the department head, discussed with the adjunct faculty member, and placed in the portfolio. Student perceptions are required every semester for all adjunct faculty, including those not participating in the professional development program.
3. Teacher Training. During the six-semester period, the adjunct faculty member must participate in an instructional development program consisting of six sessions on appropriate teaching methods and instructional designs. Reports will be written on each session and placed in the portfolio.

4. In-Service. For each of the semesters taught during the period, the adjunct faculty member will attend the in-service meeting held at the beginning of the semester.
5. Self-Evaluation. The portfolio will include a self evaluation by the adjunct faculty member concerning such matters as professional development, objectives met, graduate courses taken, professional reading, and other information that demonstrates growth as a teacher.

After teaching six semesters, the adjunct faculty member may submit the portfolio to a committee of department faculty members for review. Based on a favorable recommendation, the adjunct faculty member may receive a 15% increase in pay at the beginning of the following fall semester.

Application Process

The Adjunct Faculty Professional Development Plan is a voluntary activity. All adjunct faculty who satisfy conditions 1-5 above are eligible for the plan; all conditions must be satisfied before the portfolio will be reviewed. Applicants for the Professional Development Plan will be reviewed only in the spring. Submit the portfolio to the department head by January 31 to permit the simultaneous review of adjunct and full-time faculty evaluations. (Faculty concluding their sixth semester of service in the spring have until May 1.) After a review by a committee of department members, department head, and/or program coordinator, the portfolio and a recommendation will be forwarded to the vice president of Academic and Student Affairs. Prior to the end of spring semester, the vice president will provide the applicant with written notification of the outcome.

The portfolio is an official document that represents an adjunct faculty member as a professional educator. The content and organization of the document should reflect the personal and professional character of the applicant. The applicant should organize the portfolio with the following labeled categories:

1. Letter of Application. State qualifying criteria.
2. Vita. Include specific dates of employment, courses taught each term, and professional activities.
3. Transcript. Attach a current transcript including all graduate work to be considered.
4. Classroom Visits. Attach copies of all classroom evaluations by peers or department heads.
5. Student Perceptions of Faculty.
6. Teacher Training. Include copies of reports from teacher training sessions.
7. In-Service Attendance. List dates of in-service meetings attended.
8. Self Evaluation. (See #5 Self Evaluation in previous section)

The professional development plan provides a means for department heads to acknowledge quality performance and professional growth of adjunct faculty. Completion of this program does not include any assurance, obligation, or guarantee of subsequent employment either on a part-time or full-time basis.

P. Faculty Professional Ethics

Pellissippi State Technical Community College Faculty Council affirms acceptance of the Professional Ethics Statement that was approved by Committee B of the American Association of University Professors in June 1987.

"Professors, guided by a deep conviction of the worth and dignity of the advancement of knowledge, recognize the special responsibilities placed upon them. Their primary responsibility to their subject is to seek and to state the truth as they see it. To this end professors devote their energies to developing and improving their scholarly competence. They accept the obligation to exercise critical self-discipline and judgment in using, extending, and transmitting knowledge. They practice intellectual honesty. Although professors may follow subsidiary interests, these interests must never seriously hamper or compromise their freedom of inquiry.

As teachers, professors encourage the free pursuit of learning in their students. They hold before them the best scholarly and ethical standards of their discipline. Professors demonstrate respect for students as individuals and adhere to their proper roles as intellectual guides and counselors. Professors make every reasonable effort to foster honest academic conduct and to ensure that their evaluations of students reflect each student's true merit. They respect the confidential nature of the relationship between professor and student. They avoid any exploitation, harassment, or discriminatory treatment of students. They acknowledge significant academic or scholarly assistance from them. They protect their academic freedom.

As colleagues, professors have obligations that derive from common membership in the community of scholars. Professors do not discriminate against or harass colleagues. They respect and defend the free inquiry of associates. In the exchange of criticism and ideas professors show due respect for the opinions of others. Professors acknowledge academic debt and strive to be objective in their professional judgment of colleagues. Professors accept their share of faculty responsibility for the governance of their institution.

As members of an academic institution, professors seek above all to be effective teachers and scholars. Although professors observe the stated regulations of the institution, provided the regulations do not contravene academic freedom, they maintain their right to criticize and seek revision. Professors give due regard to their paramount responsibilities within their institution in determining the amount and character of work done outside it. When considering the interruption or termination of their service, professors recognize the effect of their decision upon the program of the institution and give due notice of their intentions.

As members of their community, professors have the rights and obligations of other citizens. Professors measure the urgency of these obligations in the light of their responsibilities to their subject, to their students, to their profession, and to their institution. When they speak or act as private persons they avoid creating the impression of speaking or acting for their college or university. As citizens engaged in a profession that depends upon freedom for its health and integrity, professors have a particular obligation to promote conditions of free inquiry and to further public understanding of academic freedom."

Q. Classroom Behavior

The instructor has the primary responsibility for control of classroom behavior and maintenance of academic integrity, and can order the temporary removal or exclusion from the classroom of any student engaged in disruptive conduct or behavior violative of the general rules and regulations of Pellissippi State. Extended or permanent exclusion from the classroom or further disciplinary action can be effected only through appropriate procedures of Pellissippi State. Students guilty of academic misconduct, either directly or indirectly through participation or assistance, are immediately responsible to the instructor of the class. In addition to other possible disciplinary sanctions that may be imposed through the regular Pellissippi State procedures as a result of academic misconduct, the instructor has the authority to assign an F or a zero for the exercise or examination, or to assign an F in the course. Consult the current Pellissippi State Catalog and Handbook for disciplinary offenses, sanctions and appeals.

Classroom conflict can be an opportunity for students to learn skills for resolving problems in a professional manner as preparation for using appropriate ways to resolve employer-employee disagreements. Instructors can provide role models to students for proper ways to resolve disputes. Both the audience in the classroom and the student with a dispute or problem can learn from classroom conflict when an instructor handles the situation professionally.

Counselors in Student Development are available for consultation in conflict management. Counselors are also available as mediators to assist disputants in resolving problems confidentially and privately and to find common ground for making acceptable agreements.

II. INSTRUCTIONAL INFORMATION

A. Philosophy and Goals

Pellissippi State offers a variety of educational opportunities to meet the needs of students with diverse backgrounds and interests. Academic and student support services are provided throughout the student's educational career to encourage academic achievement and personal growth. The College is especially committed to providing new students with experiences that recognize their unique and diverse needs and maximize their opportunities to succeed. This commitment is articulated in Pellissippi State's Statement of Philosophy for the First Year of College:

The faculty and staff at Pellissippi State Technical Community College believe that the first-year experience is critically important as it provides the foundation for college success and lifelong learning. To best serve the unique needs of first-year students, we commit to the following:

- Facilitating new student transition to the college campus
- Providing high-quality instruction during the first year
- Establishing positive mentoring and advising relationships with beginning students
- Supporting a vibrant college culture where students experience and express diverse world-views
- Offering a comprehensive range of activities and opportunities to enhance learning and personal growth
- Evaluating the results of our efforts addressing first-year student needs.

In providing first-year students exceptional opportunities for growth and involvement, we believe they will connect more deeply with the college community, achieve their academic goals, and gain a clearer, fuller vision of their lifetime direction.

Each of the College's programs is built on a set of educational goals. In addition to program-specific goals, the College expects that all students will be provided a strong general education. College curricula and supporting activities are designed to enhance personal and professional success by developing knowledge and skills in the areas of communication, humanities/fine arts, social/behavioral sciences, history, natural sciences, mathematics and technological literacy. Goals for student learning in each of these areas have been developed in conjunction with other Tennessee Board of regents (TBR) institutions and the TBR system. These include:

1. Communication Enhance the effective use of the English language essential to success in school and in the world by way of learning to read and listen critically and to write and speak thoughtfully, clearly, coherently, and persuasively.
2. Humanities/Fine Arts Enhance the understanding of students who, as citizens and educated members of their communities, need to know and appreciate their own human cultural heritage and its development in a historical and global context.
3. Social/Behavioral Sciences Develop an understanding of self and the world by examining the content and processes used by social and behavioral sciences to discover, describe, explain, and predict human behavior and social systems; enhance knowledge of social and cultural institutions and the values of this society and other societies and cultures in the world; and understand the interdependent nature of the individual, family and society in shaping human behavior and determining quality of life.
4. History Develop an understanding of the present that is informed by an awareness of past heritages, including the complex and interdependent relationships between cultures and societies.
5. Natural Sciences Enhances abilities to define and solve problems, reason with an open mind, think critically and creatively, suspend judgment and make decisions that may have local or global significance.
6. Mathematics Expand understanding of mathematics beyond the entry-level requirements for college and extend knowledge through relevant mathematical modeling with applications, problem solving, critical thinking skills, and use of appropriate technologies.
7. Technological Literacy Understand the role of technology in society and possess the skills necessary to adapt to changing computer and information technologies.

B. Program Coordinator/Lead Teacher

Lead teachers are full-time faculty members who have responsibility for the design and development of specific courses. Operational responsibilities for lead teachers include providing reference information and instructional aids and reviewing instructional plans and outcomes with other instructors of their assigned courses. In addition, program coordinators or lead teachers can provide guidance for working with students who have special interests or problems.

C. Master and Class Syllabi

The master syllabus describes the course objectives, instructional processes, expectations for student performance, content, instructional schedule, and plan of evaluation. This document presents the general plan of study for the semester and serves as a primary reference for the development of the class syllabus provided by the instructor to assist students in understanding the purpose and direction of the course, evaluate their progress and prepare for class. Master syllabi and syllabus development resources are posted at www.pstcc.edu/departments/curriculum_and_instruction/currinfo/c-menu.htm.

Adjunct and full-time faculty members are required to develop a class syllabus to be submitted to the department head prior to the first class meeting. The approved syllabus should be distributed and thoroughly reviewed with students during the first class meeting.

D. Textbook and Supplies

The lead teacher, program coordinator, or department head will supply each faculty member with a copy of required texts, a master syllabus for each assigned course, and a roll book. Incidental supplies (e.g. pens, notebooks, etc.) are available from the academic department office.

The instructor is required to use the textbook(s) specified on the syllabus as the main text(s) for the course. Supplemental texts may be assigned if they are readily available to students through Library Services or duplication that adheres to copyright laws.

E. Support and Communication

Each academic department has its own guidelines for clerical assistance in producing tests and other handouts. Computer accounts are provided for all faculty to produce their own documents, to communicate by e-mail with College personnel, to submit reports, and to access the Internet. All full-time and adjunct faculty members are required to check e-mail periodically. Training sessions for word processing, e-mail, attendance reporting and the Internet are available periodically throughout the academic year.

Access to computers and printers vary with location. At the Pellissippi Campus, the department head or departmental office personnel can identify the most convenient computers and printers. At Division Street, Blount County, and Magnolia Avenue, faculty should contact the dean/assistant dean in the central office for access information.

F. Keys

Many general lecture classrooms at Pellissippi Campus, Blount County, Division Street, and Magnolia Avenue are unlocked Monday through Friday. Adjuncts may request a general classroom key through their department head; this key will also unlock some general adjunct offices. For security purposes, labs and general lecture classrooms with instructor workstations are locked when an instructor or a lab assistant is not present. Adjunct faculty teaching labs and classrooms equipped with computers should request a key from the program coordinator or department head; until a key is issued, faculty must make arrangements with the program coordinator or department head. Adjunct faculty members who are issued keys are required to return them at the end of each semester.

For emergency entrance into locked rooms, faculty should contact security or a campus administrator (the dean/assistant dean in the central office at Blount County, Division Street, and Magnolia Avenue; the department head or the program coordinator at the Pellissippi Campus).

G. Reporting Requirements

All members of Pellissippi State faculty are required to keep records of class attendance and student performance and to participate in college-wide data-gathering efforts designed to improve instruction and service to students.

Attendance should be taken each period the course meets. Federal financial aid regulations require that each instructor report attendance at intervals specified by the College. Reports are submitted via Pellissippi State's Web for Faculty; instructions are provided by e-mail each semester. In addition, grade books which include attendance records, should be turned into the department office at the end of each semester.

For planning and evaluation purposes, the College periodically requests that faculty gather information from students. Surveys and other requests are delivered to faculty mailboxes and should be completed as indicated by the instructions provided.

H. Library Services

Library Services supports the College's mission and instructional program by facilitating teaching and learning. Services and resources provided are designed to enhance the learning environment and to empower individuals for effective lifelong learning. Library Services encourages the academic and cultural growth of its users, and believes that its priority is fostering student achievement and intellectual curiosity. To support this aim, the library staff actively collaborates with faculty to ensure that the College's curricular areas are well supported by the library's collections and services.

Funds for the purchase of all print and non-print materials for all campus locations are placed in Library Services budget. The selection of materials is a joint responsibility of the librarians and faculty members of the departments of instruction. Faculty and adjunct faculty are encouraged to recommend materials in support of their teaching activities. Faculty requests receive priority when purchasing materials. Materials are selected for inclusion in the Library's collection primarily on the basis of suitability of the materials to meet curricular needs of the individual departments of the College. The Library compiles a monthly listing of book and other materials added to the collection. This is available on the Library's web site (<http://www.pstcc.edu/library/newbook.htm>).

Research and enrichment resources are available at all site campus locations including Blount County, Division Street and Magnolia Avenue. Faculty needing instructional assistance may contact the Library Reference Desk or the ERC Coordinator. On-line resources are available at the Library's web-site (<http://www.pstcc.edu/library/>).

The Library is located on the first and second floors of the ERC Building at the Pellissippi Campus. The circulation desk, reserve room, and reference areas are located on the first floor. The second floor contains the Library's circulating collection of approximately 60,000 books, along with quiet seating areas and group study rooms for student use. At site locations, Library resources are housed and services are provided in the ERC at each location.

1. On-Line Catalog and Online Databases

The on-line catalog is available in the library at the Pellissippi Campus, and in the ERC at all site campus locations. Access to the Library's catalog is also available from the Library's website at http://www.pstcc.edu/library/redirect_opac.htm. The on-line catalog provides access to books, eBooks, periodical titles, video and sound recordings. It also provides 24/7 access to over 50,000 electronic books. Please see #6, "Ordering Library Materials," to recommend materials for the collection.

Access to the Library's online databases is available at <http://www.pstcc.edu/library/online.html>. The Library subscribes to electronic databases that provide access to full text periodical titles in a variety of subject areas, to newspapers, digital encyclopedias and dictionaries. Your email username and password enable off campus access to the Library's online resources. Subject Guides are available online and in the Library, they provide an excellent starting point for research. Find them at <http://www.pstcc.edu/library/infosub/infosub.html>.

2. Hours

Library hours and hours for the ERCs at site campus locations are posted at each location. Hours are also posted on the Library's Web page (<http://www.pstcc.edu/library/hours.htm>). The Library is closed for official College holidays. When classes are not in session, hours of operation may vary. To inquire about Library hours during breaks when classes are not in session, call the circulation desk or check the hours posted on the Web page.

3. Circulation of Materials

Books for general circulation are checked out to adjunct faculty, staff and students for two weeks; they may be renewed if a "hold" has not been placed on the material. Full-time faculty may check books out for a semester. Materials may be renewed by calling the Library's circulation desk.

Back issues of periodicals may be checked out for three class days. The most current issues of periodicals may not be checked out. Periodicals may not be renewed, to ensure that these heavily used materials are accessible to the maximum number of users.

Reference materials are for use in the Library only. Copiers are available to photocopy needed materials. All materials are subject to recall. Overdue notices are sent as a courtesy. It is the borrower's responsibility to return or renew materials by the date indicated during checkout. There are no daily overdue fees; however, after two notices and a bill warning, all users, including students, adjunct faculty, regular faculty and staff are billed the replacement cost of the item plus a non-refundable administrative fee of $15 per book or $5 per periodical or noncatalogued paperback. If the material is returned after the bill is processed, a credit memo in the amount of the replacement cost only will be sent to the Business office. Processing fees will still be owed.

4. Reserves

Reserve desk services are available at the Library at Pellissippi Campus and in the ERC at site campus locations. An instructor may request that materials be placed on reserve for the use of specific classes. Reserve requests and materials to be placed on reserve should be delivered to the Library Services circulation desk for courses offered at the Pellissippi Campus, or to the ERC service desk at the location offering the course at site campus locations. The request must include the class name and number, the instructor's name, loan period desired and specific instructions for its use. Instructors teaching at site campus locations may contact the circulation librarian at the Pellissippi campus or the ERC coordinator at the site for information about requesting books from the Library's collection for reserve at your location for the semester. Please allow 24 hours for processing of materials. Photocopied materials will be accepted for reserve and retained on reserve in compliance with copyright law. Please contact the circulation librarian for further information regarding the Library's reserve policies or copyright issues pertaining to reserve materials. Materials will be removed from reserve at the end of each semester unless the instructor provides notice to continue holding the materials on reserve. Request for continued placement of materials on reserve must meet copyright and fair use provisions of the copyright law. For further information, please call the circulation desk, or your satellite campus ERC.

5. Reference Service and Library Instruction

The Library's reference desk at Pellissippi Campus is staffed 8 a.m. until closing Monday through Friday and 10 a.m. until closing on Saturday during fall and spring semesters. Hours are adjusted during summer sessions and may vary during interim periods and breaks. Reference service is available to all users from any campus location and from home. Call or visit the reference desk for assistance. Assistance is also accessible via the AskRef Web page, AskRef Live (chat), and AskRef E-mail services available via the Library's web site.

Reference services include answering reference queries, assisting users with their research projects, developing subject specific bibliographies, and providing Library instruction to classes at instructor's request for any College location. The Library houses a current reference collection consisting of approximately 7,000 volumes, including encyclopedias, dictionaries, directories and other resources pertaining to all areas of the College curriculum. A current core reference collection is also maintained at site campus ERCs. Electronic reference books are also available at the Library's web site.

The on-line catalog, general and subject-specific full text periodical databases, online and CD ROM reference resources, and World Wide Web resources can be accessed in Reference and at the site campus ERCs. The online resources are also available from the Library's Web pages at <http://www.pstcc.edu/library>. Instructors who wish to schedule information literacy instruction at any of the College's campus locations may contact the Pellissippi Campus library reference desk a minimum of one week before the desired instruction date. Advance notice is required to allow for preparation time and coordination of space and other instructional activities. In order to make the instruction more relevant, the instructor should provide information about the nature of the assignment, the desired learning outcomes, and approximate class size so that handouts can be prepared.

In addition to formal instruction an information literacy tutorial is available at the Library's Web site (<http://www.pstcc.edu/library/tutorial2>). Although primarily used in English 1010 classes for teaching basic information literacy skills, this important tool is available to all users. The tutorial includes information on conducting general research, in addition to locating recent periodical articles using the Library's primary periodical database, InfoTrac's Academic ASAP. It also covers using the library's on-line catalog to locate books for research or enrichment. The tutorial includes a quiz and email evaluation form. Please contact a reference librarian for further information.

6. Ordering Library Materials

Instructors are encouraged to participate in the selection of books, periodicals and other appropriate materials for the Library's collection. Your expertise is an important, primary resource to assure that the Library has current materials in all academic areas of the College's curriculum for student research and enrichment activities. Materials are selected primarily on the basis of their suitability to meet the curricular needs of the College.

Instructors' requests for books receive priority and are processed on a continuous basis. Periodical requests are normally reviewed annually. Because they are ongoing expenditures, periodical titles requested are reviewed to ascertain compatibility with the College's curriculum, to avoid duplication and to check their accessibility with Library's currently available periodical indexes and abstracts. To place book, periodical or video orders, contact the librarian handling collection development in your subject area or the acquisitions / collection development librarian. See <http://www.pstcc.edu/library/libserve/acquis/aacqweb.htm> for a listing of Library liaisons. For further information on placing requests from the Library's website, see the Library's Web Pages at <http://www.pstcc.edu/library/> and select "Order a Book" or send a request via campus mail to kcornell@pstcc.edu. If you wish to be notified once the item has been processed, please include your name. Be sure to note if the order is a rush order needed for an upcoming semester.

Interlibrary Loan: Books and periodicals not owned by the Library and not available at UTK, but needed to complete research projects can be requested via interlibrary loan. Enrolled students and all faculty and staff can request interlibrary loan services. Interlibrary loan requests can be made in person or from the Library's web site at <http://www.pstcc.edu/library/>; then select the "Interlibrary Loan" choice. Please allow 2-3 weeks for delivery of requested items. For further information contact the circulation desk.

Gifts: The same selection standards apply to gifts as to other materials in the Library's collections. The Library welcomes and encourages gifts of material; however, it reserves the right to make appropriate disposition of materials given to the College.

7. Borrowing Privileges at Other Libraries

Pellissippi State faculty, adjunct faculty, staff, and students have borrowing privileges at participating TBR and UT libraries. Borrowers are expected to comply with the lending library's loan policies and are responsible for lost, damaged or overdue materials.

TBR/UT borrower's cards are available at the Library circulation desk at Pellissippi Campus and at the ERC service desk at the site campus locations. The cards are available to currently enrolled students and currently employed faculty, adjunct faculty and staff only. Students not enrolled and adjunct faculty not employed during summer sessions are ineligible for a TBR/UT borrower's card during the summer. A valid Pellissippi I.D. and a photo I.D. are required for issuance of a borrower's card. For further information contact the circulation desk (694-6516).

8. Library Services at Site Campus Locations

Students and faculty at other campus locations are invited to use the Pellissippi Campus library without restrictions. In addition, library services are provided via the ERCs at all site campus locations. Library Services also has a formal agreement with the Blount County Public Library and provides the Blount County Library with a per-student fee for service to ascertain that students at Blount County are provided additional in-depth library services. Faculty and adjunct faculty are encouraged to make specific requests for purchases of books and for services by the Blount County Public Library to support their courses. Please consult the librarian responsible for collection development in your curriculum area (see <http://www.pstcc.edu/library/> and select "Order a Book") for assistance in placing materials requests for purchase at the Blount County Public Library.

At each site, a current core reference collection is available to encourage student research and enrichment activities. A representative selection of books from the circulating collection is available to facilitate the experience of browsing. Subscriptions to a select number of popular magazines, journals and local newspapers are also available. The on-line catalog can be searched for accessing books from the Pellissippi State collection and books can be requested for delivery within 24 - 48 hours. Electronic resources, most full-text, may be accessed in the ERCs at campus sites. Online resources are also accessible from home or other locations via the Library Web page. Interlibrary loan services are also available.

At site locations housing unique degree or certificate programs, the ERC houses circulating materials, reference materials, and periodical subscriptions in support of those programs. The Pellissippi State library staff welcomes your questions and suggestions concerning the provision of services at Blount County. Please call or send an email to the Director of Library Services (pnerzak@pstcc.edu) in regard to your recommendations.

Educational Technology Services Center

Services Available

A wide variety of services are available in the Educational Technology Services Center. Professional personnel are available to assist patrons with special needs and creative ideas. To ensure that patrons receive a timely response, advance notice must be given for some services. An Educational Technology Services Center

Service Requests must be completed for some services (setting up equipment in the auditorium or cafeteria, arranging equipment for off-campus use, choral concert support, and other equipment that is to be used in the PAC). To ensure that requests are received and scheduled, an Educational Technology Services Center Service Request must be sent to the Educational Technology Services Center by the requestor.

A. Audiovisual Equipment

Audiovisual equipment may be checked out for classroom use or college-related use off-campus. The following types of equipment are available:

- slide carousels
- audio cassette players
- overhead projectors
- multimedia projectors
- CD players

B. Closed Circuit Television System

Most of the classrooms and laboratories and some other designated areas, such as the Cafeteria and Student Lounge, have televisions installed. These televisions are wired to a Master Control Room in the Educational Technology Services Center. The showing of materials can be controlled from the Educational Technology Services Center, but the Educational Technology Services Center cannot control the volume of the individual sets or turn them on or off. These televisions will not receive local TV channels. Directions for using the closed circuit system are posted in each classroom.

Video (VHS format with a large monitor) equipment is stored in each building for classroom use if faculty does not want to use the Closed Circuit Television System. Faculty should coordinate use of that equipment with the departmental secretary.

C. Video Services

The College has limited professional video services available for faculty. Faculty can tape their classroom presentations; they are welcome to schedule taping of classes in the Goins Distance Learning Classroom/studio, based on availability. The Educational Technology Services Center has editing equipment and can produce quality tapes; however, these activities take time and require coordination and must be scheduled as far in advance as possible. Telecourses and semester-long courses and tutorials developed by PSTCC instructors must be scheduled one semester in advance of when the course will be taught and must be coordinated through the Master Control Room staff.

D. Graphic Services/Presentation Services

A Media Specialist is available to assist faculty with graphics production related to instructional use. The Media Specialist can help faculty organize and develop presentations. Advance notice is also required for this service.

E. Teleconferences

Pellissippi State has the capability to receive teleconferences broadcast on KU and C bands. Arrangements for teleconferences must be made in advance and should be submitted on an Educational Technology Services Center request form.

The Educational Technology Services Center can record programs broadcast over satellite transmission. A monthly guide of programs is available in the Educational Technology Services Center.

F. Audiovisual Software

Educational Technology Services maintains an extensive video collection for faculty use. Materials may be checked out by faculty and staff for college-related use. Students cannot check out audiovisual materials without written approval from an instructor.

The Educational Technology Services Center closely adheres to copyright laws. Some companies allow us to make archival copies of materials but some do not grant this privilege. Only one copy of a video in the ETS video collection can be shown in the classroom or played through the closed circuit system at one time; the same video title cannot be used at three locations at the same time because this violates copyright law. Copies of multimedia materials will be made only after the Educational Technology Services Center has received written approval from the producer/vendor of the multimedia/video/CD.

G. Video Collection

Educational Technology Services maintains an extensive video and telecourse collection. Funds are allocated annually for adding to this collection. Faculty may request that additional titles be added to the video collection by making these requests to the Director of Educational Technology Services.

H. Distance Learning Services

Educational Technology Services personnel are available to help faculty plan for two-way audio/video courses, telecourses, and web courses. Services include course re-design, training on the use of technology, WebCT training, telecourse production, telecourse preview, and multimedia development.

III. Usage Regulations

A. Use of Audiovisual Equipment in Classrooms/Labs

A request to use audiovisual equipment in classrooms/labs should be communicated to Educational Technology Services Center personnel at least five (5) days in advance. This will ensure availability of equipment and maintenance of the equipment. Staff are unable to deliver equipment to classrooms/labs; however, faculty may come to the Educational Technology Services Center to check out equipment. Educational Technology Services Center personnel will provide operating instructions for faculty and staff who are unfamiliar with the equipment.

The location where the equipment will be used and the time the equipment will be returned are to be noted on the request form. Equipment must be returned on the same day it is checked out unless other arrangements are approved. Equipment must be returned to the Educational Technology Services Center at the specified time. Failure to return equipment creates problems for other faculty members who have reserved the equipment.

The Educational Technology Services Center closes at 7:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday; however, audiovisual equipment and materials are available for evening use. The Educational Technology Services Center staff checks the reservation request sheets and prepares equipment and/or materials reserved for the evening before leaving each day. The requesting party should pick up the equipment before 7:00 p.m.

If the equipment and/or materials will be returned after 7:00 p.m. the user must return the materials to the Security Office in the Goins Building. Failure to return the materials could create problems for the next faculty member who has the materials reserved.

B. Use of the Closed Circuit Television System (CCTS)

Most classrooms and labs are connected to the Master Control Room in the Educational Technology Services Center. Reservations for tapes to be used in the closed circuit system should be made at least two (2) days in advance. The requestor should tell the Educational Technology Services Center representative the showing date and time and the title of the material to be shown. The Educational Technology Services Center representative will tell the requestor what channel will be used.

The Closed Circuit Television System can be used to show materials in the following formats: ½" video, ¾" video, laser disc, and programs received through the satellite receiver.

The Closed Circuit Television System can handle ten (10) different channels. The same material can be shown in more than one (1) location at one (1) time on one channel or ten (10) different programs can be shown on ten (10) channels.

Televisions hung from the ceiling are operated by remote control. The controls can be obtained from departmental secretaries during daytime hours and in the Educational Technology Services Center in the evening.

Messages and announcements can also be shown over the Closed Circuit Television System. Student activity announcements must be approved in advance by Julia Wood, Director of Community Relations. All announcements must be requested at least two (2) days in advance.

C. Student Usage

Students may view materials in the Educational Technology Services Center area. Equipment for viewing is located in the same area, and students may view videos from the audiovisual software collection, the telecourse collection, or the distance learning collection.

Music and foreign language classes depend on audio tapes a great deal. Departments also use audio tapes. With permission from the producer, students may make duplicates of the audio tape collection. Students must provide their own blank tapes in order to make duplicates.

Network and Technical Services Department

The Network and Technical Services Department is responsible for providing computer support services to the College. The support services offered encompass a range of activities which include the following:

1. Maintaining and upgrading computing equipment in computer labs; maintaining computing equipment in offices;
2. Maintaining a Helpdesk and providing for software support in open labs;
3. Providing operating supplies such as toner for the computer labs.
4. Managing computer accounts on the College computer systems.

The Information Technology Support Center is the contact point for Network and Technical Services. For computer support contact the Helpdesk by phone (694-6537) or by sending e-mail to HELPDESK.

Services for Site Campus Locations

Library, ETS, and Learning and Testing Center (LTC) services are available at site campus locations. To ascertain which services are available check with the ERC coordinator at your site or with Educational Technology Services, the Learning and Testing Center staff, and the Library Services staff to determine the services available at your site or the arrangements that can be coordinated to provide services to meet your instructional needs.

Site campus ERCs have audiovisual and computer equipment available. CAMPUS SEX CRIMES PREVENTION ACT

The federal Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act and the Tennessee College and University Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act of 2002 require that whenever a sex offender becomes employed, enrolls as a student or volunteers at the College, he or she must complete or update the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation (TBI) sexual offender registration/monitoring form and deliver it to TBI headquarters in Nashville. As defined in section 40-39-102 of the Tennessee Code, a "sexual offender" means a person who is, or has been convicted in another state or another country, or who is or has been, convicted in a federal or military court of committing an act which would have constituted a sexual offense if it had been committed in this state. A "sexual offense" means the commission of acts including, but not limited to, aggravated and statutory rape, sexual battery, sexual exploitation of a minor, aggravated prostitution, and kidnapping.

Both acts designate certain information concerning a registered sexual offender as public information and therefore amend and supercede the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and other federal and state laws that previously prohibited the disclosure of such personal information. Since the laws require the publication of information pertaining to sexual offenders employed, enrolled or volunteering at an educational institution, said publication does not constitute grounds for a grievance or complaint under college or Tennessee Board of Regents policies or procedures.
