OPENING WORDS.....Angela Dixon Anderton

WELCOMEL. Anthony Wise Jr.

PRESENTATION OF CANDIDATES.....Kathryn Byrd

CONFERRING OF DEGREES.....L. Anthony Wise Jr.

PRESENTATION OF GRADUATES.....Kathryn Byrd

CLOSING REMARKS..... Nicole Chandler,
Pellissippi State Alumna

Graduates,

You did it.

Never in the history of Pellissippi State has a graduating class had to endure as much as you have in order to complete the requirements for a degree. Not only did you endure a seismic shift in the method of instruction as you approached graduation, you did so in the midst of a global pandemic. You evolved and persisted through the challenges you faced to achieve this significant milestone.

As your president, I am confident that the resilience you’ve shown in completing your education during these unprecedented times will strengthen you for the rest of your journey, whether you’re heading into the workforce or on to a four-year university. This experience that you’ve weathered with grit and grace no doubt will shape how you handle adversity and challenges years from now.

So today, I personally congratulate you for staying the course when the going got tough. Long before many of us had heard the term “coronavirus,” we had emphasized equipping our Pellissippi State students with the ability to start, stay and finish strong. You are the embodiment of what it means to be #PellissippiStrong, and that tenacity will serve you well throughout your life.

I know that you will accomplish great things—because you already have.

President L. Anthony Wise Jr.

Honor Societies

Gamma Beta Phi (τβφ) The society is an honor and service organization for students with an emphasis on scholarship, character and service.

Kappa Beta Delta (κβΔ) The society recognizes scholarship and accomplishment among students of member institutions who are pursuing associate degrees in business, management and administration.

Lambda Epsilon Chi (Λεχ) Lambda Epsilon Chi is a national honor society for paralegals sponsored by the American Association for Paralegal Education.

Phi Theta Kappa (φθκ) As a national honor society for two-year colleges, Phi Theta Kappa recognizes academic excellence among students at Pellissippi State. Graduates wear stoles or cords at the Commencement ceremony to signify φθκ membership.

Sigma Alpha Pi (ΣΑΠ), the National Society of Leadership and Success, is the nation's largest leadership honor society. Students are selected by their college for membership based on academic standing or leadership potential.

The list of graduate candidates was prepared before final grades were reported. Therefore, inclusion in the program does not constitute evidence of graduation from Pellissippi State Community College. Conversely, the absence of a student's name does not mean he or she will not be awarded a degree. Honors for degree candidates are based on cumulative grade point average at the time of publication. Membership lists for honor societies were provided by club advisors.

Distinguished Service Medallion

The Distinguished Service Medallion is awarded to graduates who have most actively served the community during their time as a Pellissippi State Community College student. These students have volunteered more than 60 verifiable hours with local nonprofits and public service agencies while taking their courses. Graduates receiving the Distinguished Service Medallion have an asterisk (*) by their names.

PELLISSIPPI STATE ACADEMIC REGALIA

The Mace. Originally a weapon of combat, the mace is said to have been developed around 12,000 BC. The macebearer position is derived from medieval times in Europe, when the mace was carried by a bodyguard to protect the king from would-be attackers. Over the centuries, the mace has come to represent the academic authority of colleges. It is traditionally carried by a distinguished faculty member preceding the president. At Pellissippi State, the mace is carried at graduation by the person chosen annually by his or her peers to receive the Outstanding Full-time Faculty Award. The Pellissippi State mace was designed and crafted by Tom Walker and Charles Wright. The mace is crafted of indigenous walnut and cherry adorned with bronze, aluminum and titanium.

The Chain of Office. The Pellissippi State chain of office represents the authority of the president of the College. The chain is formed of bronze links that culminate in a jewel — the seal of the College — surrounded by a bezel of bronze fleur-de-lis, which are representative of the iris, the state flower of Tennessee. The chain links are separated by plates inscribed with the names of the four presidents of Pellissippi State. Other plates in the chain are embossed with the flame of knowledge, while others are clasped hands that represent the College's commitment to serving the community.

The Academic Banners. Pellissippi State has 10 academic banners. The first symbolizes the College as a whole and is blue and yellow, the school colors. The nine other banners represent the major academic units of the institution: Business and Community Services, which is the non-credit division, and the eight academic departments — Business and Computer Technology, Engineering and Media Technologies, English, Liberal Arts, Library Services, Mathematics, Natural and Behavioral Sciences and Nursing. The academic banners carry the traditional colors of the various disciplines, as well as blue and yellow.

Academic Regalia. The history of academic regalia extends to the earliest days of the oldest universities. During the second half of the 14th century, English universities prescribed the wearing of a long gown. In 1895, American colleges and universities adopted a uniform code for the use of academic caps, gowns and hoods. This code is followed by approximately 95 percent of all colleges and universities in the United States.

A black gown and cap are worn by those being awarded the associate degree or certificate. Those having a bachelor's, master's or doctoral degree also wear a black gown. A hood may be worn with the gown and is lined with the official color or colors of the college or university that conferred the degree. The velvet binding or edging of the hood indicates the subject to which the degree pertains. The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black mortarboard. A black tassel, or one of a color signifying the field of specialization, is appropriate for all degrees. Candidates for degrees wear the tassels on the right front side before degrees are conferred and shift them to the left when degrees are awarded. For all academic purposes, the colors associated with the different subjects are as follows:

Agriculture — Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities — White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business — Drab
Dentistry — Lilac
Economics — Copper
Education — Light Blue
Engineering — Orange
